

Università di Camerino
Scuola di Bioscienze
e Medicina Veterinaria

18th European Young Cereal Scientists and Technologists Workshop

San Benedetto del Tronto, Italy, April 15-17, 2019

Preliminary program

Sunday, April 14th 2019

'Le soleil' Hotel
16.00-20.00 Registration
18.00-19.30 'Meet and Greet'

Monday, April 15th

University of Camerino,
San Benedetto del Tronto, Italy

Introductions to the 18th EYCSTW

09.00 Welcome speech
09.30 Keynote lecture
Innovative bread improvers: facts and fiction
Peter L. Weegels Chair of
Cereals&Europe, Sonnevelds, Nederlands

Session 1

10.00 Presentations
10.45 Coffee break & Networking
11.15 Presentations
12.45 Lunch

Session 2

14.00 Keynote lecture
Legumes as source of nutraceuticals
Gianni Sagratini University of
Camerino, Italy
14.30 Presentations
15.30 Refreshments

Session 3

15.45 Presentations

16.45 Free time
19.30 Social Dinner

Tuesday, April 16th

University of Camerino, Camerino, Italy

09.30 Keynote lecture
Quinoa for feeding a changing world: From science to fork
Emanuele Zannini University
College of Cork - Ireland
10.00 Keynote lecture
Gluten sensitivity: a new emerging disorder. The possible role of amylase-trypsin inhibitors found in cereals
Massimiliano Cuccioloni
University of Camerino, Italy

Session 4

10.30 Presentations

12.30 Lunch

13.45-17.00

- Visit to 'Pasta of Camerino'
(Camerino, MC)
- Visit to the 'Research and Experimentation Center for Plant Improvement'
(Tolentino, MC)

20.00 Dinner

Wednesday, April 17th

University of Camerino, San Benedetto
del Tronto, Italy

09.00 Keynote lecture
A stroll through multidimensional characterization of bread
Elena Vittadini University of Camerino, Italy

Session 5

09.30 Presentations
10.45 Coffee break & Networking
11.15 Presentations
12.00 Final Discussion & Closing Remarks

13.00 Lunch

Call for abstract

Abstracts are due

by Friday, March 17th

Abstracts should be sent to cerealsandeuropa@scisoc.org
and
fatma.boukid@unipr.it